Celebrity Cookery Classes Debut at Miele Gallery

An all-star culinary line-up has been confirmed for intimate cookery experiences as part of the 2010 Tasting Australia programme with a brand new event, the Miele Celebrity Cookery Classes in association with Singapore Airlines.

Over five exciting days at the new Adelaide Miele Gallery, classes will allow food lovers at large to cook with the great including Rosemary Shrager, presenter of the hit series Ladette to Lady; chef Antony Worrall Thompson of UK's Ready, Steady, Cook fame -partnering with his Adelaide based son, Sam Worrall Thompson; Simon Bryant co-star of ABC's The Cook and the Chef and the Hilton Adelaide; Shannon Bennett of Melbourne's multi-award-winning Vue de Monde; Pete Evans and Manu Feildel both of My Kitchen Rules and the combined team of South Australia's own Maggie Beer and Italian legend Antonio Carluccio.

A lucky few will have a unique opportunity to work with these masters of the culinary arts.

"The Miele Celebrity Cookery Classes at the new Miele Gallery are a going to be the hottest tickets in town, a real draw card for Tasting Australia, and an absolute must for any passionate foodie," said Tasting Australia Festival Director Ian Parmenter.

The Adelaide Miele Gallery will be the fifth Gallery to open in Australia with facilities already operating in South Melbourne, Knoxfield, Perth and Brisbane.

Miele is delighted to be a partner of Tasting Australia and showcase the Miele Gallery to culinary greats and the food loving public.

Jim Stain, State Manager for Miele South Australia says the Miele Celebrity Cookery Classes as part of Tasting Australia are a brilliant debut in the new Miele Gallery.

"Miele will host their own cooking demonstration at the Gallery on a regular basis, demonstrating the various attributes of Miele's cooking appliance range in the extensive live kitchen, as well as VIP events featuring demonstrations by celebrity chefs. The Tasting Australia partnership is a fantastic way to launch this space and kick off this programme."
